Can old firehouse become a lively riverfront destination?

Depression-era firehouse in West Sacramento as it looked yesterday: unused and tagged with graffiti. A developer working on a residential project across the street hopes to buy it and turn it into a restaurant and bar, with possible living space

Could a neglected, Depression-era firehouse on the West Sacramento riverfront find new use as a restaurant and a bar?

Has the time finally come for the rehabilitation of the old Washington Firehouse?

The city council tonight will consider entering a six-month period of exclusive negotiations with D&S Development, which hopes to make such a project happen. Bay Miry of D&S Development says the publicly-owned building could be made into a restaurant and bar with "possibly some work/live space."

The project might be similar to what his company has achieved with rehabs of the Brewster's building at 201 4th Street in Galt (built in 1882 for the Odd Fellows), or the old "Sheepherder Inn" at 11275 Folsom Boulevard in Rancho Cordova (now the Fire Rock Inn).

The Washington Firehouse at 317 3rd Street features some rounded "streamline" features that show its 1938 pedigree. Like the Tower Bridge, it was a "New Deal" project financed by the federal government to help combat the Depression. It features a stamp bearing the initials "WPA," for Works Progress Administration.

The firehouse is located just around the corner from the landing to the I Street Bridge, in a riverfront neighborhood that civic leaders would like to become vibrant and diverse once again.

The firehouse has been empty since 1997, despite several spurts of development interest. In 1999, an architect hired by the city estimated that it could cost as much as a million dollars to renovate it into "leasable condition" for retail, restaurant and office use.

D&S Development also owns the nearby Bridgeway Market and surrounding land, with plans to create a residential project simultaneous with a rehab to the Washington Firehouse.

D&S Development hopes to negotiate for some city assistance to the firehouse project "in the form of a market-rate loan for the property, deferral of city fees, and commitment to pursue grant fees for streetscape improvements along 3rd Street," says a city staff report.

Parks commissioner builds some muscle

By Steve Marschke

Francisco Castillo, a Southport resident and a citizen member of West Sacramento's Parks & Community Services Commission, has a new hobby. It's working out pretty well so far.

Over the weekend, Castillo put his biceps, etc., on display at the San Jose National Physique Competition. He took third place in his class in the bodybuilding competition.

Before he started training as a body builder a year ago, Castillo hadn't been seriously involved in any sport.

"This was something I've always been interested in," he told the News-Ledger. "I wanted to set a goal of being in a competition."

Castillo has been training at a Sacramento gym – at first on his own, but with professional trainer Devon Lindner for the past six months.

Castillo stands about 5' 11" tall and weighs 185 pounds. Apparently, not a lot of that is body fat.

His day job is as deputy communications director for Students First, an educational reform group. Does he intend to compete in bodybuilding again?

"Actually, I have another competition coming up on August 2nd in Sacramento," said Castillo. "I'm booked to compete and I hope to bring home another medal to West Sacramento."

Accident leaves two young boys dead

Two small boys are dead after a traffic accident in the Clarksburg area Friday morning.

Media reports say the mother of the boys, the older of whom was five years old, crashed into a tree, splitting the car open. The mother was rushed to the UC Davis Medical Center and is expected to recover.

The accident occurred at Jefferson Boulevard and Central Avenue.

Investigators from the C.H.P. were trying to determine a cause for the accident, and reported no obvious answer to that question.

Scholarship generosity

The counseling department at River City High School reports that generous donors passed out a total of $565,100 in scholarship money to deserving local grads this year. The awards were announced at a May 28 school ceremony.

A single winner, Sufia Mehmood, received at least $40,000 in scholarships – as well as a direct full-ride acceptance to Harvard University. She had a 4.0+ grade point average, a strong background in math and science and a history of volunteer work.

Scholarship money came from a couple dozen sources as diverse as the Marines, the local teachers' union, the Kiwanis, Rotary, Soroptimist and Elks organizations, and a fund set up by volunteers who recycle cans and bottles at the RCHS campus and convert them to scholarship cash.

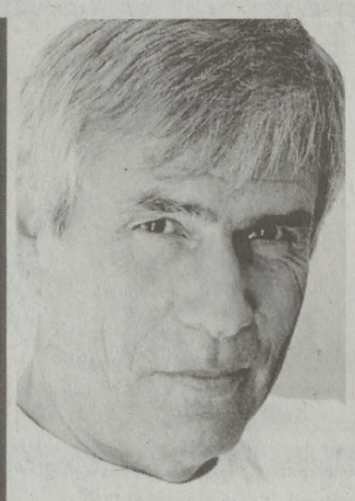
Popping the question? Careful with that ring!

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

Note: Daryl is taking the week off from column writing. Below is one of his favorites from the past.

I have a younger brother (by six years) named Greg, and like me, he was born and raised in West Sacramento. After graduating from college and getting married, however, he decided to move across the bridge and call Sacramento his home. Greg has spent more than two decades working for the California Highway Patrol in their computer center and he and his wife, Kelly, have three grown sons – Bryan, Marc and Eric. All of them have attended Sacramento schools, and Bryan, who is Greg's oldest son, is now a teacher at Sacramento's C.K. McClatchy High School.

For as long as I can remember, Bryan has been considered the clown of Greg's family. And when the Fisher clan gets together, we can always count on him being the life of the party. He loves to tell funny stories, he does great impressions, and best of all, he has a contagious laugh which quickly spreads to anyone within the sound of his voice. My kids all love him and always look forward to hearing about his latest adventures, which usually have a strange and hilarious twist to them.

"That kid is going to be the death of me yet," exclaimed my brother Greg when he learned a few years ago that Bryan had signed up to teach English to young Japanese students in Japan. "I hate airplanes, and now my oldest son is going to fly all the way across the Pacific Ocean on one of the darn things."

And so he did, with my brother somehow figuring out a way to track every inch of Bryan's flight on his home computer, fearing that Bryan's plane would surely drop out of the sky at any moment. But much to my brother's surprise, not only did Bryan make it safely all the way to Japan, he stayed there for 22 long months. And about halfway through his stay, he also fell in love – which brings me to my little story.

Her name was Yumi, and just like most everyone who has ever spent any time with Bryan, she was immediately attracted to him by his sense of humor and his fun way of looking at the world. And when Bryan finally returned to Sacramento to start his high school teaching career, Yumi soon followed.

"Wanna guess what Bryan has gone and done now?" my brother asked me the other night over the telephone.

"What?" I asked with interest, sure that whatever it was, I would end up laughing.

"He and Yumi are now officially engaged," said my brother, "but you won't believe how the whole thing went down."

"Wow, Bryan gave her a ring and everything?"

"Well," said my brother, already starting to laugh, "he tried to."

"He tried to?" I asked, slightly confused.

"That's right," said my brother, trying hard to get through the whole story without breaking up, "he went out and got Yumi a really nice ring that had to cost him more than a thousand bucks and took her all the way to San Francisco to pop the question. But before he got the ring on her finger, he somehow managed to drop it into the Pacific Ocean."

"What?" I asked, trying not to laugh myself.

"You'll have to call him to get the whole story," continued my brother, "but the short of it is that he made reservations at a very nice restaurant where he and Yumi were going to have dinner, but before they got there, Bryan decided to get all romantic and he took her down to the water to see the sunset. And just before he was going to pop the question, the ring and the box it was in somehow got away from him, rolled down a steep cliff, and ended up in the Pacific Ocean. Now can you believe that? Well, it's Bryan, so I guess you can. I'm calling him Ringo now."

So, as soon as my brother and I got off the phone, I quickly put a call into Bryan.

"Yumi's engagement ring is at the bottom of the ocean?" I asked him in disbelief.

"I'm afraid so," admitted Bryan, surprisingly cheerful considering the circumstances.

"Now how in the world did you manage to do that?"

"Well," explained Brian, "I had this really perfect day all planned out for us. We were going to ride a tandem bike in Golden Gate Park, have a great dinner, and spend the night in a fancy downtown hotel. Plus I wanted Yumi to see a beautiful San Francisco sunset, so I took her down to the ocean and we had to walk about 30 minutes or so to get to the top of this cliff overlooking the sea. We could see the Golden Gate Bridge off in the distance and I immediately knew it was the perfect time and place to propose to her. So I slyly took the box with the engagement ring in it out of my pocket, but before I opened it up to put the ring on Yumi's finger, I just had to give her a big hug and kiss, and that's when things started to go wrong."

"What happened?"

"Well," continued Bryan, "I didn't want Yumi to see the box with the ring in it before I finished hugging and kissing her, so I put it between my legs and tried to hold it there with my knees, but the kissing suddenly got really good and somehow the box just slipped right out, and before I knew it, it was tumbling down the cliff and headed for the rocks and water below."

"So then what did you do?"

"I started running after it of course!"

"Down the cliff?"

"That's right – down this really steep little dirt trail. I was completely out of control most of the way and I guess I'm lucky I didn't fall and break my neck."

"And what was Yumi doing?"

"She was carefully following me down, yelling in both Japanese and English, 'Bryan, why are you running down this cliff?'"

"Then what happened?"

"Well, when we both finally got all the way down, I told Yumi what had happened and then we spent the next 45 minutes or so trying to find the ring until there was no more light. I did find the box, but it was all broken up and wet, so I guess the ring fell out of it somewhere along the line and ended up in the ocean."

"You know, Bryan, I gotta tell you, I think that's probably the most incredible engagement ring story I've ever heard."

"Crazy things sure do seem to happen to me, don't they?"

"How's Yumi taking it?"

"Pretty good, actually. The sad part is that I showed the ring to my parents and everyone else when I first bought it but Yumi never got to see it, and I'm sure she would have loved it. I told her that I was just trying to give her a day she would never forget."

"And what did she say?"

"She said I had definitely given her a day she would never forget!"

'Well,' said Bryan, "I didn't want Yumi to see the box with the ring in it before I finished hugging and kissing her, so I put it between my legs and tried to hold it there with my knees, but the kissing suddenly got really good and somehow the box just slipped right out. . .'

POLICE LOG

from front page one

July 9, 2:25 a.m.
A 29-year old Davis woman led Davis police on a high-speed chase.

Her Nissan Altima led the pursuit through West Sacramento and into Sacramento, south on I-5. West Sacramento police joined the chase. Her car tires were "spiked" south of Elk Grove, near Twin Cities Road, and she was arrested by Davis police.

July 9, 11:30 a.m.
A north-West Sacramento woman with "mental issues" made statements about "possible suicide by cop." No arrest was immediately made.

July 9, 11:52 a.m.
A motorcycle officer saw a 54-year old male transient walking toward a hotel on the 1800-block of West Capitol:

"Subject pulled what appeared to be a small-caliber handgun from his waist and aimed it at me," reported the officer. The man then fled into the motel parking lot. He was detained and found to be in possession of a replica "Sig" handgun.

July 9, 1:16 p.m.
An officer reports seeing several tents and campers in a fenced and posted "no trespassing" wooded area north of the Broderick Boat Ramp. Four people were ordered out of one tent, including a 46-year old homeless man.

In the tent on the mattress was an "Air Soft" replica Baretta 9 mm handgun next to a digital scale, baggies and a pipe and some suspected methamphetamine. Under the mattress was about 10 grams of what later tested positive as meth. The 46-year old claimed ownership of the drugs and was jailed. The others were ID'd and released.

July 9, 2 p.m.
A fast food restaurant on Harbor Boulevard reported a drunk woman who refused to leave.

An officer arrived to find a "well known" and highly intoxicated woman who was "unable to walk by herself and stumbled several times into the walls inside" the establishment. She was arrested.

July 9, 7:51 p.m.
On the 1200-block of West Capitol:

A police officer contacted a 44-year old Sacramento man behind the store with some stolen items. Video from the store showed him stealing the goods, which consisted of six bottles of alcoholic beverages, a four-pack of protein shakes and a light bulb – worth a total of $181.08.

The man was arrested.

July 9, 10:30 p.m.
A citizen found and turned in three packages of illegal "Alien" fireworks near Raley Field. Police booked them for destruction by the bomb squad.

July 10, 6:57 p.m.
At a store on Riverpoint Court, "loss prevention" staff detained a 37-year old homeless man who tried to shoplift $36 worth of "batteries and Cheetos."

July 11, 2:40 p.m.
A couple from Millerton Place were arrested separately on welfare fraud and perjury charges. The man turned himself in to police, while the woman was arrested the same day at her home.

July 11, 2:22 a.m.
An officer noticed several people loitering near covered patios of the Broderick Boat Ramp. A 24-year old man verbally identified himself to the officer, but the officer didn't believe the name. The man also kept putting his hands in his pockets, despite being ordered not to.

"I was uncertain if (suspect) was possibly attempting to access a weapon in his pockets, therefore I conducted a pat-search of his person," reported the officer.

When the officer began the search, the man volunteered, "I have crank on me."

The officer found a baggie with 0.4 grams of methamphetamine about six inches from the man's foot. The man admitted, "Yeah, that's mine."

A glass drug-smoking pipe was also found in a backpack.

After being read his Miranda rights, the man stated:

"The baggie of meth was originally in the right side pocket of my pants. It fell out while you were searching me."

The man went to jail. The name he provided turned out to be true.

July 11, 10:39 p.m.
Police were called by security personnel to a Shore Street shipping company. An employee was being detained in the office after being seen leaving the property with two apparently-stolen iPhones. The man had admitted stealing them from a package meant to be delivered.

An officer contacted the suspect, a 20-year old Sacramento man, in the security office. Conducting a pat-search, the officer located another iPhone in the man's front left cargo pocket. He read the man his rights and obtained this statement:

"I saw an open box on the conveyer belt containing several iPhones. I grabbed three iPhones that were lying on the conveyor belt and put them in my shorts pockets. I was intending on taking the phones and later selling them on the internet."

The three phones were valued at $600 each. The man went to jail.

July 12, 7 a.m.
A woman reported her bike, worth about $100, was stolen from the front yard of her mobile home on the 2000-block of West Capitol.

On Twitchell Island Road, a man reportedly assaulted his 20-year old son, "causing injuries that required suturing." No arrest was immediately made.

July 12, 11:33 a.m.
At Maple Street and Rice Avenue, a resident found a bottle of prescription blood pressure pills and turned them in. Police were not able to immediately find a phone number or address for the patient.

July 12, 2:53 p.m.
At West Capitol and Poplar avenues:

An officer spotted a 37-year old West Sacramento man known to be on probation.

"Upon contact, subject was evasive and then fled on foot. Subject took a fighting stance, and taser was deployed and baton utilized to overcome resistance."

The man was arrested. He had three outstanding warrants.

July 12, 4:10 p.m.
A homeless man said he had been robbed on 4th Street by a man known as "Not Not."

July 12, 6 p.m.

July 12, 6:05 p.m.
From a supermarket on the 1600-block of West Capitol Avenue, an officer reported:

"A female was observed by loss prevention. . . walking out with several products without paying for them."

The security official placed the woman under citizen's arrest. The responding officer cited her and released her.

She had been trying to leave with $51.96 worth of "Enfamil Gentlease," a product designed for babies to "relieve fussiness and gas."

July 12, 8:10 p.m.
Baseball stadium security on Ballpark Drive placed a "known" 49-year old man under citizen's arrest for trespassing at 5th Street and Riske Lane. Police gave him a "Notice to Appear" in court.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS

BY SAM STRUCKHOFF

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"The Other Woman" (PG-13) -- Three women team up for slapstick revenge when they realize they are being strung along by the same guy. Cameron Diaz plays a super-busy, extra-classy Manhattan lawyer who tries to surprise her boyfriend, but ends up finding out he's married. The cheated wife (Leslie Mann of "This Is 40," "Knocked Up") confronts and then befriends Diaz. Together they discover that Mann's husband (Nikolaj Coster-Waldau from "Game of Thrones") is cheating on both of them with a voluptuous beach bunny (Kate Upton).

This might not be the hilarious and empowering ladies-get-revenge the producers had in mind. While Diaz and Mann try to bring balance between warmth and goofy comedy, the script and the direction just don't support them.

"Noah" (PG-13) -- The Bible story of Noah and the Ark gets a different spin in this somewhat darker and grungier retelling. Russell Crowe plays Noah with gravel-voiced conviction. He receives visions from the silent "creator" who seems to give him instructions. Noah puts together the boat, rounds up the animals and fights off hordes of enemies -- all with a little help from giant rock monsters who used to be angels.

Russell Crowe as Noah

Darren Aronofsky handles the material as reverently as he can. The movie tries to fill in the gaps while pleasing both devout and secular audiences. There are some genuine thrills in the film, as well as some truly impressive special effects.

"Lullaby" (R) -- Jonathan (Garrett Hedlund) left his family years ago to pursue a music career out in California, and now he's come back to New York City for his father's final days. Dad (Richard Jenkins) has decided he wants to be pulled off life support after a very long battle with cancer. Now the whole clan has a lot of feelings to work out and only 48 hours to do it. Jonathan finds some peace when he meets Meredith (Jessica Barden), a terminally ill teen who teaches him a few things about living with death.

"Five Dances" -- Chip (Ryan Steele) is talented, young, broke and all but alone in New York City. He's in a small dance troupe rehearsing five classical pieces of choreography, dedicating himself to the art while still receiving phone calls from his alcoholic mother, begging or demanding that he return to Kansas or else she'll follow him to the city. Chip has a connection with one of the other dancers, but he doesn't how to react to it. The driving force of this film is the expert dancing -- shot almost entirely in a small dance studio with natural lighting and minimal schmaltz.

"The Girls at the Kingfisher Club"
by Genevieve Valentine
(Atria Books, $18)
Reviewed by Ealish Waddell

Once upon a time, in an era known as the Jazz Age, there were 12 lovely young women who had the temerity not to be born boys. Their father, a cold and strict man, shuts his embarrassing excess of daughters away in their rich mansion, an ivory tower that doubles as gilded cage. By day, they go nowhere and see no one. But at night, the girls secretly sneak out of their prison and escape into the speakeasies of 1920s New York City, a glittering, romantic world where they can dance until dawn.

But now, even that fleeting freedom is coming to an end, for their father has begun to suspect their duplicity and is determined to get his daughters all quickly and respectably ensconced with husbands. The girls understandably fear the kind of men who would want a sheltered bride with no knowledge of the outside world, and dread simply exchanging one captivity for another.

Jo, the eldest sister, has charged herself from the first with the responsibility of keeping them all safe and secret on their covert nighttime excursions, and she's determined to save her sisters from this insidious new threat, even if it means sacrificing her own chances at happiness.

"The Girls at the Kingfisher Club" is an innovative retelling of a European fairy tale transferred to a particularly exciting

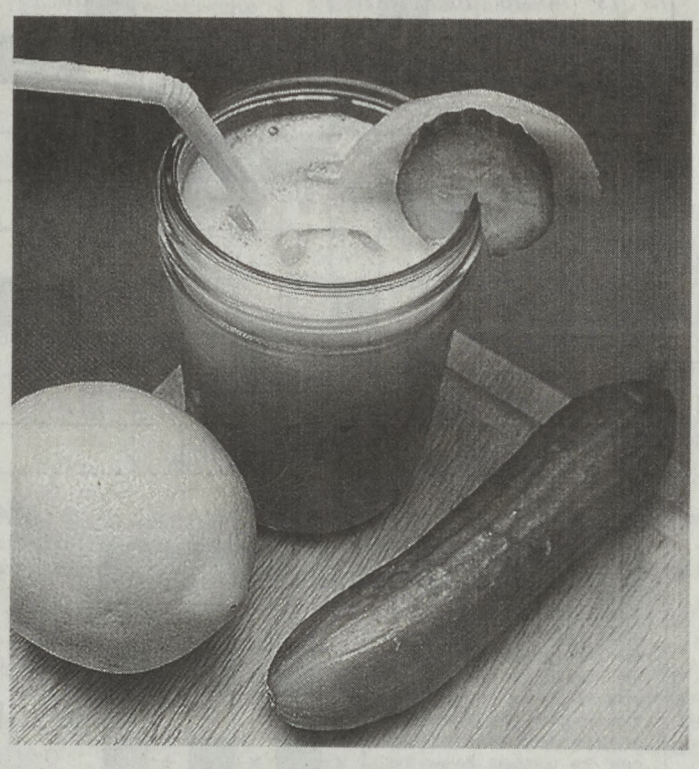
The Kitchen Diva

BY Angela Shelf Medearis



"As cool as a cucumber" is a much-used phrase, referring to a state of mind rather than the clean crunch of the pale-green flesh of a cucurbit, but it is true. There isn't a summer-fruiting food cooler than a cucumber. When the weather wilts you, a cucumber is nature's tasty refreshment.

Cucumbers are a member of a large, diverse family of summer ripening crops, including melons and squash. So it begs the question: Is it a fruit or vegetable? Because botanists define food that develops from the flower of a plant as fruit, cucumbers -- like tomatoes and many other surprising foods such as avocados, corn, beans and peas -- are, scientifically speaking, classified as fruit. With its unassuming flavor, cucumbers are versatile in ways that other fruits and vegetables aren't.

Cucumbers possess beneficial antioxidant compounds and are low in calories, and also offer these health benefits:

¥ Fight heat, both inside and out. Eat cucumber, and your body gets relief from heartburn. Apply cucumber to your skin, and you get relief from sunburn.

¥ Flush out toxins. All that water in cucumber acts as a virtual broom, sweeping waste products out of your system. With regular use, cucumber is known to help to dissolve kidney stones.

¥ Contain skin-friendly vitamins and minerals: Magnesium, potassium, silicon and vitamins A, B and C, which boost immunity, give you energy and keep you radiant. Give it more power by juicing cucumber with carrot and spinach.

When choosing cucumbers for pickling, look for the nubby, small cucumbers (often called "pickling cucumbers") for the best results. There also is an interesting type of cucumber called lemon cucumbers. They're called "lemon" not because of the taste, but because they are about the size of a lemon and yellow-colored when ripe. When at their best, cucumbers of all kinds can bring a whole new type of cool to your summertime meals.

Cucumbers are the perfect addition to salads, slaws and other cold dishes. They add a fresh crispness to cool soups, which are especially good for warm season meals. Cucumbers can be shaped into interesting edible containers to hold more strongly flavored dips and stuffings.

Cucumbers of all varieties are loved for their texture as much as their taste. Since cucumbers are approximately 95 percent water, they could be considered a fibrous, pleasantly flavored thirst-quencher. My simple recipe for Cucumber Lemonade is the perfect way to use cucumbers to refresh and rehydrate during the dog days of summer.

CUCUMBER LEMONADE

If you don't want to blend and strain your ingredients, slice the organic cucumber and lemon, combine them with the water and sugar and refrigerate for at least 4 hours to flavor the water.

5 cups cold water
1 large organic cucumber (peeled and cubed)Ê
Juice of 1 large lemon
1/2 tablespoon stevia, honey or sugar, as desired

Using a blender, juicer or food processor, combine water and cucumber until mixture is smooth. Strain mixture over a pitcher or large bowl using a fine mesh strainer, and discarding the solids (you won't have to do this step if using a juicer). Combine cucumber mixture with lemon juice and stevia, honey or sugar. Pour over ice cubes, and serve immediately. Makes 2 large servings.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF WILLIAM DAVID TILLER
CASE NUMBER PB14-104

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of WILLIAM DAVID TILLER:

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Carolyn Martin Tiller in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

The Petition for Probate requests that John J. Pugh be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: Aug. 19, 2014, at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 2, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF ROBERT J.E. BROWN (CORRECTED)
CASE NUMBER PB14-105

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Robert J.E. Brown:

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Charles Terry Brown in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

The Petition for Probate requests that Charles Terry Brown be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: July 30, 2014, at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 2, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695, Probate Division.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

The Sacramento River registered 19 feet 5 inches, United States guage at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. A great depth of snow in the mountains assures the farmers of the valley that there will be no shortage of water in the river during the coming summer. At the present writing it is reported that there are 65 inches of snow at the summit and it is being packed so that its lasting qualities will hold it during the entire spring. Certainly there is no scarcity of water or lack of moisture in the soil in this section of Yolo County and farmers are taking advantage of the opportunity to get their cultivating done and all their crops planted before another rain.

The Bridge Cafe, a dancing hall that had been in operation about a month, was cleared out last Tuesday when all the material was auctioned to the highest bidders. Although the furnishings had cost over $4000, very little over $400 was realized on the entire material. The rear end of the building where the cafe was located, stands on the right of way for the highway that is about to be built to the M street bridge and will have to be moved or the building remodeled to comport with the roadway.

R. A. Brooks, manager of office activities for the General Petroleum Corporation, with his assistant, J. W. Rogers, spent some time yesterday at the corporation's headquarters in West Sacramento. They are making note of the necessary equipment that will be needed in the near future. E. E. Bane, service representative of the General Petroleum Corporation, with headquarters in Oakland, was also a visitor yesterday at the Westgate headquarters. All three returned to Oakland yesterday evening.

J. Misetich escaped a serious accident last Wednesday on the Freeport road in Sacramento when the steering gear of his automobile became loosened and he was unable to control its direction. Suddenly shutting down his power and applying his brakes, Misetich managed to reduce the speed of the car, but nevertheless, the automobile collided with a telephone post and was damaged to the extent of about $100. He escaped with only a shaking up and some slight bruises.

Miss Alta Flynn and Miss Louise Gold have been visitors at the Lindquist home during the past week and expect to stay several days longer. Miss Flynn came from Portland and Miss Gold from Colorado. They are old friends of the Lindquist family and are professional nurses who devote a good deal of their time to philanthropic work. Both are highly educated and besides practicing their profession, between times devote considerable time to relieving the sick and dispensing charities where they are badly needed. Both these ladies expect to spend some time at Truckee before returning to their homes. They want to witness the winter sports in California because they feel lonesome for the snow to which they were accustomed for several years in their home localities.

WASHINGTON WAS NAMED IN 1850

Washington, in Yolo county, more frequently called Broderick nowadays, was named by Mrs. James McDowell, widow of the first settler in that locality, on Washington's birthday, 1850. McDowell had purchased 600 acres from John Schwartz for 12½ cents an acre. After McDowell's death his widow founded the town, gave it a name and filed the first plat. Schwartz gained considerable fame by raising melons and other garden truck and selling it to miners in Sacramento at fancy prices.

B. Parker, arrested by Triffic Officer H. R. Jacobs on February 22 for driving at a rate of forty-three miles an hour on the state highway near the Yolo causeway, appeared before Judge Barry yesterday and pleaded guilty to the charge. After paying his fine he promised to sin no more and delivered $10 to the Judge.

R. Henry, arrested on February 21 by Traffic Officer Jacobs for cutting in on the Yolo causeway, has not yet appeared before Judge Barry for trial. He will likely regret his driving recklessly because the Judge is severe on those who endanger lives on the causeway.

Mettie Peluso was married in Sacramento yesterday forenoon by Rev. Father Taverna at the Italian Church at Seventh and S streets. His bride was Miss Margaret Torres, age 21, while he gave his age at 19 years. Immediately following the ceremony the young couple went to Oakland on a wedding trip. Peluso is a son of J. Peluso, who operates a soft drink place near the Southern Pacific bridge.

Endowed with the distinction of deputy constable, Walter Leinberger, familiarly known as "Doogan," placed a victim of canned heat under arrest last Wednesday evening when he created a rumpus in the vicinity of the postoffice. The canned heat victim didn't like the idea of spending all night in the calaboose and fought back at Leinberger, who was in no mood to stand for back-slack from a poor, depraved creature who uses canned heat as a stimulant. Accustomed to handle great carcasses of meat, Leinberger handled the canned heat victim like he was a toy and threw him about as if he were a shuttlecock, but, nevertheless, did not injure him. A lawabiding citizen himself and anxious to see the balance of the community just as lawabiding, Leinberger despises anyone who dwindles to the level of a canned heat user. He promises in the future that any other man

SITE FOR NEW SCHOOL SELECTED BY TRUSTEES ON THE MERKLEY PLACE NORTH OF CARLY ACRES

The site for the new school to be erected by the Washington school trustees was selected last Wednesday when the trustees agreed with Roy Brooke to take over three acres on the Merkeley ranch north of the state highway in Carly Acres.

The location is immediately across the state highway from Rucker Station.

For these three acres the trustees consented to pay $1,500, but of that amount the residents in the immediate neighborhood consented to pay a bonus of $500. In that manner the Washington school trstees will only put up $1,000 for the three acres.

Mrs. Manchester told the Independent yesterday that the best price she could get from the West Sacramento Company for three acres located between Westgate and Carly Acres was $1,500.

The location of the school at this place is considered an injustice by the residents of Westgate, who voted in favor of the bonds because they were promised that a site would be selected for the building at a point in the West Sacramento district equally distant from Westgate and Carly Acres.

It was only the foresightedness of the residents of Carly Acres who voluntarily contributed $500 for the purchase of the site that was instrumental in prompting the trustees to locate the school in this location.

Residents of Westgate are now threatening to ask for a school district of their own, but yet they will be forced to pay their portion of the $20,000 bond issue that will go to build the school at Carly Acres.

But if the Westgate children must attend this school transportation must be provided for them, for the distance is somewhat over two miles, and certainly it would be better or shorter for them to continue attending the Washington public school.

The bonds are being advertised for sale at the present time, and according to expert reports on the legality of the bonds they will be sold to the highest bidder on Monday, March 1st, at the courthouse in Woodland.

Mrs. Manchester also advised the Independent yesterday that Miss Harriett Lee, county superintendent of schools, had visited the selected site and had given her approval of the location.

The Independent feels that the end of this matter has not yet been reached and that the Westgate people will not calmly submit to the location of the school at a site that is not midway between Carly Acres and Westgate.

This paper will welcome communications on the subject and will faithfully publish anything the parents or the taxpayers of the two districts wish to offer.

YOUNG MAN ACCUSED OF BURGLARY IS HELD TO ANSWER

At about 3 A. M. last Monday morning at the dance hall on Second street between Margaret street and the M street bridge James Jacks was arrested by the watchman in charge of the place and two other men who were called by the watchman and who were camping across the street from the hall.

Hearing a noise in the hall, the watchman noticed a dark figure prowling around the place, using a searchlight, which he flashed periodically. Instead of shooting, as is usual in cases of this kind, he went outside and called for help. With the aid of two other men Jacks was arrested and in his possession at the time of the arrest were two saxophones taken from the orchestra, a suitcase filled with tobacco, chewing gum, cigars and other material that had evidently also been taken from the place.

In Jacks' possession at the time of his arrest was found a very large screw driver about two feet in length which had been used to pry open the back of a gum vending machine and from which all the coin had been extracted.

Evidently this is a clear case of burglary against the young man.

He is now lodged in the county jail at Woodland and his preliminary hearing has been set by Judge Barry for Friday, March 6th. He offered no explanation at the time of his arrest.

BOND ELECTION FOR $8,000.00 FOR BRYTE SCHOOL ON MARCH 20

Woodland, Feb. 25.—Added to the two recent school bond elections, one in Davis and the other in the Washington district, still another election is to be held in the Bryte district, this one for $8000 for the purpose of obtaining funds to erect two rooms on the present Bryte Grammar School.

The bond election will be held March 20, according to announcement made this morning by District Attorney George T. Kern, who is preparing the papers in his office.

The two rooms for the Bryte school are held an immediate need, as accommodations for the school children at present are totally inadequate, it is stated. No doubt is felt by residents of Bryte as to the outcome of the election, and it is foretold that the bonds will be passed with probably no opposition.

The improvement of the Bryte school will have much to do with the advancement of education in Yolo County, which is growing by leaps and bounds. With the Davis High School to soon be erected, and a new grammar school for the Washington district to be put up in the future, this county can look to none other for leadership in educational lines.

PROLONGED TRIAL RESULTS FROM SPREE OF LAST FRIDAY

To celebrate Washington's Birthday in proper style and to add a little luster to the occasion D. C. Berg and Ernest Miller started celebrating last Friday.

In the first place they intended to attend the prize fights in Sacramento last Friday evening and in order to do so they partook of a popular brand which is sometimes distributed along the river levee.

Returning from the prize fights, they felt a little depressed on account of a friend who had lost his battle in the arena. To relieve the depression they partook of a little more and in that way the fiesta was continued Friday night, Saturday and Sunday. The climax came, however, on Friday night, when Berg, who is a deputy constable, claimed Miller was drunk and wanted to arrest him for disorderly conduct and using foul language within the hearing of good men and decent women.

Berg, to fulfill his official duties, tried to handcuff Miller and succeeded in doing so, even though Miller put up a valiant fight.

When Miller was fully handcuffed, Berg poked his revolver into Miller's ribs to impress him with the majesty of the law.

Spending all night in the calaboose, Miller was very sore and sobered up next morning sufficiently to swear out a complaint against Berg.

Being a deputy constable, Berg refused to be arrested until Constable Wilson impressed upon him that he must come before Judge Barry and explain his actions.

Judge Barry set the trial for Berg for Wednesday last for 2 p. m. Miller was represented by Attorney Nelson French of Sacramento and Berg had the support of District Attorney Kern.

The trial lasted all Wednesday afternoon and the greater part of Thursday before an audience that filled the justice court as it was never before filled. Indeed the trial was so ludicrous that people came from many distant places to listen to it.

To wind up the trial on Thursday evening Berg was found guilty on two counts and was sentenced this morning by Judge Barry. The other count is yet to be tried.

Berg and Miller are residents in the neighborhood of Second and Margaret streets and have been good friends until poor booze set them at each other's throats.

HALE, ARRESTED IN SAN FRANCISCO FOR HOLDUP, ACCUSED BY AL. ZEIMER

Woodland, Feb. 25.—William Hale, arrested in Washington early last January in connection with a holdup and robbery in which Al Zeimer of Sacramento lost $3000 in diamonds, is in the county jail in San Francisco, accused of highway robbery. Word comes to Woodland that Hale was captured Tuesday night on the San Francisco water front after he held up Kenneth Nolan, special Southern Pacific policeman and robbed him of a valuable revolver. Hale was caught by bay police two blocks away from the scene of the robbery with the stolen gun and a blackjack.

Hale and five other defendants, arrested by Sheriff J. W. Monroe, including Dixie and Harry Williams of the

MACHINERY AND PUMPS IN PLACE TO START GRADING OF ROAD

At the western end of the M street bridge yesterday, H. V. Tucker of the H. V. Tucker Company, contractors, was superintending the placing of pumps and other machinery to start the work of filling the grade for the state highway that is about to be built from the M street bridge westward as far as Fifth street.

Two large pumps of six inches in diameter, with electric motors attached, are to be used in the filling. These pumps will not pump sand from the river bed but will be used to float the sand westward to the point of location.

Tomorrow a large clam shell dredger will take its place in the stream near the bridge and will throw up the sand from the river bed on the levee near the bridge. Into a trough this sand will be dragged with scrapers and a six-inch stream of water will then be started by one of the above mentioned pumps to float the sand to the low places where it is needed.

Mr. Tucker explained to the Independent that the second pump will be used to throw the excess water back over the levee into the river.

The fall from the top of the levee to the highest point along the roadway is at least twelve feet and this fall is estimated to be sufficient to carry the sand to its destination.

Tucker explained to the Independent yesterday that he expects to finish his job in less than forty days. He expected to start more than a week ago but was delayed because the power line necessary to operate his machinery could not be brought to the location before yesterday.

To control the water a trench will be maintained at the northern side of the fill for the roadway. This will allow the excess water to flow back toward the levee, at which point the second six-inch pump will be located.

PETROLEUM CORPORATION MAY HAVE TO RENT SITE AT DAVIS

To establish a distributing base at Davis representatives of the General Petroleum Corporation have been looking for a site during the past week in that locality but so far have been unable to secure the needed ground at a resonable figure.

Owing to publicity given by the Independent on this question about two weeks ago it seems that landowners felt they had an opportunity to hold up the corporation for enormous prices for their land. This the corporation refuses to do and as a consequence no site has yet been secured.

The corporation expects to pay a reasonable figure for the necessary land but the Davis people are asking San Francisco prices for their holdings.

An alternative presents itself to the corporation of leasing a site from the Southern Pacific Company on which to establish the distributing base.

WEST SACRAMENTO RECLAMATION TRUSTEES MEET

Joseph Peltier, Samuel Harbinson and A. F. Turner, trustees of the West Sacramento district, otherwise known as District No. 900, held their monthly meeting last night at West Sacramento headquarters.

Questions of importance were taken up by the trustees and acted upon but the meeting was in session at such a late hour that this paper was unable to secure the transactions for this issue.

George M. Jones, secretary of the bondholders' committee of the West Sacramento district, accompanied Mr. Peltier on the trip from San Francisco.

PACKING HOUSE AND SHIPPING POINT TO BE LOCATED AT WESTGATE

Report was current in Westgate yesterday that a large packing and canning concern was about to locate a cannery or packing house along the river near Westgate.

From what the Independent could learn it is understood that G. D. Hudnutt has already contracted to build a large building and judging from the size of the order for lumber that was given a Sacramento lumber yard, the new building will not be a two by four.

The Independent could not confirm the report because of the lateness of the hour at which information came into its possession.

LOCAL YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED IN WOODLAND

Last Tuesday in Woodland Grant DeRiso, 24 years of age, and Miss Jennie DaGiau, 19 years of age, were married after a courtship of several years. They had been sweethearts since they attended school and the culmination of their romance was not unexpected.

Mrs. Helen Hicks was the only witness from this locality present at the marriage.

Grant DeRiso is a son of Frank De Riso, one of the oldest residents of Washington. He is a machinist in the Southern Pacific shops in Sacramento and is popular with all the young people of the town.

Mrs. DeRiso was a pupil of the Washington public school and was raised here and is also very popular with those who know her.

Temporarily the young couple will make their home with Frank DeRiso, a brother of the groom, on their return from Oakland, San Francisco and other points where they went on their honeymoon.

Over 100 languages are spoken on the streets of New York every day.

But when night comes 200 dialects are added to the clamor.

School Yolo program with a giant tomato-shaped school house, an animated school room scene, a school garden with fresh produce from local farms and an informational slideshow.

"Farm to School Yolo" is a public health and agricultural marketing initiative that is changing the way students and young people eat, think about food, and improve their health through the development of life-long healthy eating habits. Farm to School Yolo works with all five Yolo County school districts and the Yolo County Office of Education's Head Start Preschool Program to increase the amount of fresh, local produce offered in breakfasts, lunches and after school snacks. The program offers an opportunity to educate students and staff on food origins, how it was grown and how to prepare it for peak flavor and nutritional value.

The program is currently funded through a three-year California Department of Food and Agriculture Specialty Crop Block Grant.

"Farm-to-School Yolo is a piece of the puzzle in building a local food economy, turning the tide of childhood obesity and reconnecting our residents to the land and the people who produce our food," said Yolo County Board of Supervisors Chair Don Saylor in a press release. "We have a lot to be proud of here in Yolo County and are pleased to be recognized by the California State Fair for telling our story in this way."

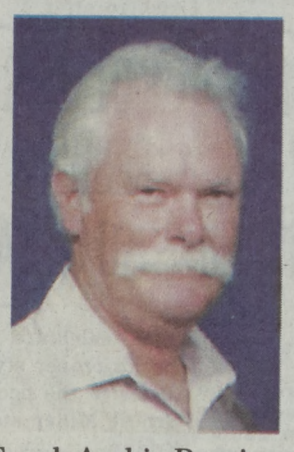
OBITUARIES



Frank Archie Dorris

Frank Dorris died on July 7, 2014 in West Sacramento at the age of 82. He was born on August 20, 1931 to William and Lela Dorris and he and his brothers, Elmer, Ernie and Don, and his sister, Florence, spent their childhoods living in the neighborhoods of Broderick, West Sacramento and the surrounding Yolo County districts.

Frank married his high school sweetheart, Connie, in 1951 after graduating from Clarksburg High School. He entered the U.S. Army in 1952 and went to work for River Lines in Broderick on his return from Germany. In 63 years of marriage, Frank and Connie raised three children who gave them five grandsons. In 1958, Frank started his career as a West Sacramento firefighter and retired from the department as a captain in 1986.

Frank understood and valued hard work and on his off days from the fire department he roofed houses and helped friends build their homes. He could lay brick or cement, wire or plumb a house, and was a "Jack of all trades". In his free time he liked to take his family to Dillon Beach to fish, clam and dive for abalone, go camping around the Chester area, and fish the Sacramento River with his buddies.

Frank is survived by his wife, Connie; daughters Debra (Don) Brown and Cindy Zazzi; son Frank (Mari Jo); and grandsons Clayton Brown (Jaime), Derek Zazzi, Curtis Zazzi, Justin Dorris and Dylan Dorris. At his request, there will be no funeral service and a memorial party will be held for family and friends at a later date. Memorial contributions can be made to California State Firefighters' Association Scholarship Fund at SCFA.NET.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, this information can be obtained from one of the following two companies: LPS Agency Sales and Posting at (714) 730-2727, or visit the Internet Web site www.servicelinkASAP.com (Registration required to search for sale information) or Priority Posting and Publishing at (714) 573-1965 or visit the Internet Web site www.prioritypostng.com (Click on the link for "Advanced Search" to search for sale information), using the Trustee Sale No. shown above. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. A-4467069 07/02/2014, 07/09/2014, 07/16/2014
